MOVING MOUNTAIN TRAVELS 100 YARDS

MOUNTAIN NEAR MEEKER, COLO. RESTS ON A CLAY STRATA

(By United Press)

Meeker, Colo., March 25.—"Moving Mountain," a 2,000 foot peak, has been seized with wanderlust and in two days has traveled 100 yards.

The shifting of the mountain has completely obliterated portions of the main highway into Meeker and other places and has caused the hummocks from three to five feet higher to swell up in the middle of the road.

The action of the slope of the peak resembles the waves of the seas. Geologists account for the phenomenon by the fact that the mountain rests upon a clay strata which has been softened by spring rains.

FLOOD WATERS IMPERIL TOWN, GRIFFIN, IND.

NOW WITHIN A FEW HUNDRED YARDS OF THE RUINED VILLAGE

HEAVY DOWNPOUR OF RAIN LAST NIGHT CAUSES APPREHENSION

(By United Press)

Evansville, Ind., March 25.—Flood waters of the Wabash and Black rivers today were within a few hundred yards of the ruined village of Griffin, Indiana, and the streams were starting to rise.

A heavy downpour of rain in this section of the state during the night ended all hope of immediate relief from the menace of the flood. The Ohio river continued to rise, causing the waters of the Wabash to spread further over the lowlands in the territory swept by the tornado in the vicinity of Griffin a week ago.

Another slight rise will send the waters over the site of Griffin. Tornado injured, marooned in farm houses, were being rescued in skiffs manned by militia men and Red Cross workers.

No immediate danger was held out for the refugees as long as there is an avenue of escape for them over the tracks of the Illinois-Central railroad in the event the town is inundated.

FLOOD WATERS RECEDE GRADUALLY

Griffin, Ind., March 25. — Flood waters of the Wabash and the Black Rivers which threatened to add to the ruins wrought here by last Wednesday's tornado were gradually receding today. Temporary fire stations were established today by Evansville fire fighters. Four stations were set up in different sections of the town to guard against outbreak of fires in the district.

LATEST NEWS FROM STATE LEGISLATURE

BILL ON REORGANIZATION TO BE REPORTED OUT SOON

SEVERAL AMENDMENTS ARE INTRODUCED IN THE SENATE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 25.—The bill on reorganization will be reported out from the floor of the house within two or three days, it was expected today. The house civil commission which now has the bill is holding special meetings in order to dispose of all amendments and have the bill on the floor of the house before the senate takes any further action upon it. The bill was taken up under special order in the senate Tuesday afternoon and after several amendments were introduced, the bill was laid over for a week. The house committee will endeavor to have it taken up as a special order in the house as soon as it is reported out of the committee.

HOUSE BUS REGULATION BILL

St. Paul, March 25.—The house bus regulation bill may have to be repassed by that body. This was indicated today after the senate committee on railroads and transportation reported the bill favorably to the senate. The measure was passed by a 118 to 17 vote by the house last week. Senators, however, opposed some of its provisions which are objected to by officials of the larger cities. These include portions of the bill which it is believed will place the city bus lines and even taxicabs under the railroad commission instead of leaving control of them with the cities.

A motion to make the regulation bill a special order of business some day next week will be made, Senator H. H. Bonniwell, chairman of the senate committee, said when he reported the measure back.

If radical changes are made in this bill, the house probably will not concur in them, it is declared and then would have to go to a conference committee, thus bringing it before both houses at the crowded end of the session.

APPOINTMENT OF OFSTHUN CONFIRMED

St. Paul, March 25.—The state senate today by a vote of 39 to 23 confirmed the appointment by Governor J. A. O. Preus of T. O. Ofsthun to run the Rural Credit Board. The appointment was made nearly two years ago and runs to July, this year. Senator Iver J. Lee, a fellowtownsman of Ofsthun, objected to the appointment, declaring he does not believe Ofsthun capable of handling a $40,0000,000 business. Senator J. A. Carley also voted no to the motion, saying he believed Governor Preus made a gross mistake.

HARD LIFE FOR STREET CAR COMPANIES HERE

WAHPETON-BRECKINRIDGE CO. WILL SUSPEND OPERATIONS MARCH 31

FORCED TO PAVE TRACKS, THEN BUSSES GRAB ALL THE BUSINESS

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 25.—It is a hard life for streetcar companies.

The Wahpeton-Breckinridge street car company says so in filing notice today that it will suspend operation March 31st.

The railway, capitalized at $42,500, was forced, according to the state railroad and warehouse commission, to pave between its tracks at a cost of $21,000. Then the busses started running on that paving and now have run the street cars out of business.

The railway was granted an increase of fare from five to seven cents in April, 1924, but this failed to save it. There are 122 stockholders of the firm, most of whom live in St. Paul and Minneapolis. The road is 1 1-8 miles long.

SHEPHERD IN HIS FOURTH DAY OF FIGHT FOR BAIL

MAY KNOW DECISION IN HIS CASE BY NIGHTFALL

IF DENIED, HE WILL HAVE TO OCCUPY CELL IN "MURDERER'S ROW"

(By United Press)

Chicago, March 25.—William D. Shepherd's attempt to be released on bail—already stamped as the greatest fight of its kind in the history of criminal courts, entered its fourth day today.

If the state's attorneys, whose arguments are heard today, do not talk too long, the man who is accused of murdering his millionaire ward, Billy McClintock, will know by night whether he will have his freedom pending the trial, or whether he will have to occupy one of the cells in "murderer's row" in the county jail.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe's indictment expert, Thomas Marshall opened the state's argument just before court closed yesterday. He is to conclude his speech today and will be followed by another assistant prosecutor, George Gorham. Then Crowe himself will close the state's argument that Shepherd should be confined to jail.

ARGUMENT OF THOMAS MARSHALL

Chicago, March 25.—All evidence presented thus far tends to show William D. Shepherd guilty of the charge of murdering his ward, Billy McClintock, Thomas Marshall, assistant state's attorney, declared today in the fight to deny Shepherd freedom on bond. Marshall cited numerous cases to support the state's contention that Shepherd is not admissible to bail.

TRIOLOGY OF SCANDALS IN GREAT BRITAIN

MR. A. CASE, DENNISTOUN SUIT AND WATERHOUSE CASE

NOW BEING USED AS TEXTS SHOWING CORRUPTION AND DEBAUCHERY

(By United Press)

London, March 25.—England is worried over its triology of scandals, the Mr. A. Case, the Dorothy Muriel Dennistoun case and Waterhouse case which ended last week.

"These cases are being used as texts for sermons showing corruption, debauchery and dishonor of every kind among British specialties," an editorial in the Daily Chronicle said today.

The editorial says that this "orgy of scandal" may have its effect internationally and we are convinced that the effect within the nation is not good.

All of the cases are practically ended as far as the courts here are concerned except the Dennistoun suit. Mrs. Dennistoun has not yet won her fight despite the findings of a jury in her favor yesterday which included an award of 5,000 pounds sterling.

The jury findings must be passed upon probably today by the court. Arguments will be made by attorneys for Mrs. Dennistoun and for her husband, Lieut. Col. Ian Dennistoun, whom she is suing.

The ruling of the court will approve or disapprove the jury's award of damages.

MEN NEARER TO UNDERSTANDING HER, SAYS DOROTHY

ELLINGSON GIRL, 16 YEARS OF AGE, ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH MURDER

SHOT HER MOTHER WHEN SHE OBJECTED TO HER "JAZZ-MANIA"

(By United Press)

San Francisco, March 25.—Dorothy Ellingson may realize her wish to have a jury of men decide her fate.

When court opened today for the third session of the trial on a charge of murdering Anna Ellingson, her mother, who objected to 16-year-old Dorothy's career as "jazz-baby," 11 jurors were in the box passed temporarily and only three of them were women.

The defense still has left a sufficient number of challenges to remove these three and leave a reasonable chance of challenging enough additional women to get all men on the jury.

"That's what I want—to be tried before men," Dorothy reiterated. "Men will come nearer to understanding and will not be as prejudiced."

It was pointed out that in almost every case where women have been asked whether they would hold it more serious for Dorothy to have murdered her mother than to have murdered someone else, they have answered in the affirmative.

Defense attorneys indicated today that Mr. Ellingson, the stolid Norwegian tailor, who is Dorothy's father, would be a leading witness for his daughter. It was not until several days after Mrs. Ellingson was killed that Ellingson would agree to aid Dorothy.

"I am ready to do anything I can for her," Ellingson told the United Press.

Dorothy has been prepared carefully for her trial and dressed in excellent taste. She wears a henna ensemble suit which blends nicely with her red-brown hair, neatly marcelled. Yesterday she wore for the first time a new cloak with fur collar into which she could all but bury her head when she desired to hide from a too piercing gaze.

The editorial says that this "orgy of scandal" may have its effect internationally and we are convinced that the effect within the nation is not good.

All of the cases are practically ended as far as the courts here are concerned except the Dennistoun suit. Mrs. Dennistoun has not yet won her fight despite the findings of a jury in her favor yesterday which included an award of 5,000 pounds sterling.

The jury findings must be passed upon probably today by the court. Arguments will be made by attorneys for Mrs. Dennistoun and for her husband, Lieut. Col. Ian Dennistoun, whom she is suing.

The ruling of the court will approve or disapprove the jury's award of damages.

ROSENWALD GIVES MILLION DOLLARS

TO AID UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO ENDOWMENT FUND OF $17,500,000

(By United Press)

Chicago, Mar. 25.—A $1,000,000 gift by Julius Rosenwald, chairman the Board of Directors of Sears-Roebuck Company, started the University of Chicago's drive for an endowment fund of $17,500,000. Other contributions totalled $700,000.

While Rosenwald's contribution was announced at a meeting of the Chicago alumni here, graduates in 50 cities over the country were in session for the same purpose.

Telegrams from some of them announced donations as high as $30,000. This came from New York City.

MEN NEARER TO UNDERSTANDING HER, SAYS DOROTHY

ELLINGSON GIRL, 16 YEARS OF AGE, ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH MURDER

SHOT HER MOTHER WHEN SHE OBJECTED TO HER "JAZZ-MANIA"

(By United Press)

San Francisco, March 25.—Dorothy Ellingson may realize her wish to have a jury of men decide her fate.

When court opened today for the third session of the trial on a charge of murdering Anna Ellingson, her mother, who objected to 16-year-old Dorothy's career as "jazz-baby," 11 jurors were in the box passed temporarily and only three of them were women.

The defense still has left a sufficient number of challenges to remove these three and leave a reasonable chance of challenging enough additional women to get all men on the jury.

"That's what I want—to be tried before men," Dorothy reiterated. "Men will come nearer to understanding and will not be as prejudiced."

It was pointed out that in almost every case where women have been asked whether they would hold it more serious for Dorothy to have murdered her mother than to have murdered someone else, they have answered in the affirmative.

Defense attorneys indicated today that Mr. Ellingson, the stolid Norwegian tailor, who is Dorothy's father, would be a leading witness for his daughter. It was not until several days after Mrs. Ellingson was killed that Ellingson would agree to aid Dorothy.

"I am ready to do anything I can for her," Ellingson told the United Press.

Dorothy has been prepared carefully for her trial and dressed in excellent taste. She wears a henna ensemble suit which blends nicely with her red-brown hair, neatly marcelled. Yesterday she wore for the first time a new cloak with fur collar into which she could all but bury her head when she desired to hide from a too piercing gaze.

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 25.—The legislative investigation by a house committee of state game and fish department came to an end today.

Little evidence has been presented in the windup to support charges of political favoritism and unbusinesslike conduct of the department on the part of J. F. Gould, commissioner.

The resolution asking for the inquiry was presented to the house by Representative George Lommen of Biwabik. He was named chairman of the investigating committee, of which the other two members were Representative George Harried of Deer River and B. C. Fisk, Plainview.

AUDIENCE TAXED CHURCH CAPACITY

Goran O. N. Follinger, Violinist, And Carl G. Berggren, Pianist, in Recital Monday Evening

AT CLARA LUTHERAN CHURCH

Amati of Follinger Seemed a Living Thing, Responding to Tender Touch of Its Master

The large audience that gathered at the Clara Lutheran church on Monday evening to hear the celebrated Swedish artists, Goran O. N. Follinger, violinist, and Carl G. Berggren, pianist, taxed the capacity of the building, but through the skillful ushering of the ladies of the Young Peoples' Society all were comfortably seated.

Chamber Music

Chamber music has been called the finest form of absolute music, which does not depend on any embellishment nor aid for its artistic effect. An opera is associated with massed choruses, dramatic scenes and gorgeous apparel; in orchestral music a volume of sound is produced by many instruments, presided over by a dynamic personality; but chamber music is intimate music, played by a few, for the few. At least, that was the original intention, and the effect has been preserved. It calls for great sympathy, both on the part of the performers and the hearers.

An Ultra-Modern Composition

The first number on the program was a sonata by the Swedish composer, Wilhelm Peterson-Berger, of which only two copies are in this country. The sonata is the ideal type of musical form. It is the poetry of music. The composition played, Sonata in G Major, is ultra-modern, and perhaps is a little advanced for the average audience. However, it was thoroughly enjoyed by those who followed its various movements. The first was joyous in theme, the second being marked by a delicate touch of humor, while the last movement was picturesque in its contrasted effects, colorful modern touches being introduced which led up to the concluding movement, con Fuoco, which when used as an ending literally means, "fiery" finish. The sonata was magnificiently played by these two musicians who are frankly in love with it, and say so through their interpretation of the composers' score.

Group Well Contrasted

The second group consisted of two well contrasted lyrics by Grieg, and an extra number, also by Grieg, "In the Hall of the Mountain King," from the Peer Ghynt suite. These lyrical compositions by the Norwegian composer are as refreshing as a pine-laden breeze, and were interpreted by Mr. Berggren with marked individuality.

Violin an Intimate Instrument

The group of violin solos was played without acompaniment, the burden of the melody being carried by the violin alone. It has been called the "singer" of the musical family, and is the most intimate of all instruments. In these numbers, two of which are of Mr. Follinger's own composing, this old Amati violin of his seemed a living thing, responding to the tender touch of its master. Mr. Follinger gave as an extra number his own "Duetto," which is written in the form of a duet, and so impressed his hearers when played last September that he was requested to repeat it. His compositions are poetic in conception, distinctive as to form and movement and full of rich melody.

A Bold Musician

In his book, "Mezzotints in Modern Music," the high-handed Huneker says that operatic selections on the piano are absurd, and that "bold is the man who plays one in public." If the latter saying is true, then not all the bold men are in the Western movies, flourishing six-shooters, for Carl Berggren played as a piano solo Leschititsky's arrangement of Donizetti's celebrated ensemble, the Sextette from Lucia de Lammermoor, and if Huneker had heard him the reviewer is sure that he would have changed his adjective to "superb'" It was not a mere display of taxing technique. His tones were rich, well-rounded, and the pedaling was so skillfully done it semed hardly possible that the resulting sustained tones were not produced by two powerful hands upon a concert grand, instead of a left hand only, and upon an upright instrument. However, the quality rather than the volume of the music was his dominant thought, and had applause been a custom in Lutheran churches, Mr. Berggren would have received it in full measure.

Mid-Summer Nights' Dream

As an extra number he repeated by request his own composition, "Fantasi," which is delightfully original. Seemingly of fairy fabric, it truly is a "Mid-Summer Nights' Dream." It was played with a gay abandonment that brought out the artist's innate rhythm, while the rapid passages served as a happy medium for his sure yet delicate touch.

The program closed with a ballad and polonaise combined, by the celebrated Belgian composer, Henri Vieuxtemps. The Ballade et Polonaise is among the best known of his works and this number was executed with real distinction. Mr. Follinger's violin playing in the ballad movement was full of mellow sweetness, while in the polonaise his tones flowed in liquid notes of vibrant beauty, and his staccato passages were given with crystaline clarity. Under the touch of his bow, his old Amati, more noted for its mellow beauty than depth of tone, responded with a tone of surprising breadth and power. The piano accompaniment was in itself a tone-poem, but was held in subordination in true musicianly manner by Mr. Breggren.

Nordic Folk-Songs

Following this climax came a group of Nordic Folk-Songs, also by request. These melodious songs were received with that satisfaction which we all feel when in the realm of the familiar. That idyllic gem, "Shepherd Girl's Sunday," by the immortal Ole Bull, was given most beautifully.

Mr. Follinger and Mr. Berggren return to Sweden this fall, where they have been engaged by the Swedish government to give concerts in various cities and towns in Sweden. Due to the interest the government is taking in things musical, a purely classical program can be given successfully in the small towns. The standards of music have been raised in Sweden by this national movement, and the people of even rural communities follow a clasical program with intelligent interest. Jazz has been discouraged in Sweden and its effects are dying out, to be replaced with the time-tested music of the great masters.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25, 1925

THE CO-OP'S MAIN OBJECT

THE "Potato Grower," official organ of the Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange, in its issue of March 20, explains the main objects of the cooperative movement. It is very clearly stated, as follows:

A cooperative marketing organization is in business to raise the basic price of the product handled rather than to make an outstanding sale or two.

The Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange is a thorough believer in this statement. When we say anything about prices we talk average prices. Our sales manager asserts his willingness to compare his average price for the season with that of any old line dealer. There is no boasting about some particularly good sale, or grieving over some disastrous venture. To keep the average high is the big aim so that all growers shall benefit from their membership in the exchange through successive years.

When you hear of some one receiving an unusual price for his potatoes and he is heralding it far and wide, you know that some poor devil somewhere is keeping very still about the low price he had to take from the same buyer.

It can't be otherwise because the law of averages works with the local buyer as relentlessly as with others. What he loses by paying a price above the market to one grower he must make up by buying from some other grower at a price below the market. Otherwise he must go broke. That is "sure as death and taxes." It is the business of the exchange to adjust the pools and pooling periods so as to insure the average price to all members, according to grade and quality.

In short, as we see it, the greatest good for the greatest number is the objective sought.

WE SAW HER GRAVE IN BOSTON

THE quest of literary sharks for the original Mother Goose tends to rob Boston of that glory, says the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press. On our part, we always thought the lady to be of a fictitious nature until we visited Boston at the time of the Elks convention last year and were astonished to find the grave of Mother Goose, well marked and well kept in a cemetery in the very heart of the business section of Boston.

More pilgrims tarried at this grave than at the graves of the tea party heroes, or the colonial governors and other important personages sleeping their last sleep in this little cemetery, small in area, but nevertheless housing, as the sexton said, 3,000 bodies.

Iconoclasts seeking to disturb the fame of Mother Goose, assert that the title came from France as early as 1697, that many of the stories came from France and England and that Oliver Goldsmith contributed some. Boston, however, rests secure in the belief that the old lady had the literary qualities ascribed by tradition, and furthermore, points to her grave as proof that at one time she was a living entity.

BLOWING YOUR OWN HORN

THE Boys' band presents the film "Blow Your Own Horn" at the Lyceum last time tonight, and it brings to mind the oft repeated assertion, if you don't blow your own horn, who will?

The hero in "Blow Your Own Horn" wasn't averse to blowing it, and he jibes well with the estimate made by Heywood Broun, critic and author, who writes in Liberty.

Copybook maxims inculcating modesty and self-effacement come in for severe jolts at Broun's hands. After studying and watching the careers of hundreds in dramatic and literary pursuits, he has decided that the world gives "lip-allegiance" to these virtues, but gives its money and acclaim to those who capture its attention by tooting their own horns.

This meeting will bring together representatives of some 60 technical organisations as well as some 300 manufacturers, distributors or consumer bodies, to consider tentative proposals to make reductions of about one-third in the existing varieties of milling cutters used in the machine industry.

Solution to Yesterdays Puzzle

Nothing Makes an Inroad Without Making a Road

The road reflects human progress. Check that fact up any way you please; note the sort of roads the Romans made when they were at their peak in every other way; observe the roads in a modern American city or town which is on its toes and alive. Then contrast those roads with the poor apologies for thoroughfares which exist in any community where there is no desire for any sort of progress, commercial or spiritual. The test works—every time. You'll never find any community which is slack about its roads which is not also slack about some other fundamental matters. The whole matter was summed up by Dr. Horace Bushnell of Hartford back in 1846.

If there is any motion in society, the road, which is the symbol of motion, will indicate the fact. When there is activity or enlargment or a liberalizing spirit of any kind, then there is inter-course and travel, and these require roads. So if there is any kind of advancement going on, if new ideas are abroad and new hopes rising, then you will see it by the roads that are building. Nothing makes an inroad without making a road. All creative action, whether in government, industry, thought, or religion, creates roads.

That is why the question of good roads and of building new roads in this country cuts far deeper than the matter of humoring the motorist or increasing prosperity. A good road pays back dividends in every sort of coin. For a road well built and well kept up means a people also well built and well ket up.—Exchange.

Many Brainerd Folks Are Showing How to Avoid Needless Suffering

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Brainerd people. Profit by this Brainerd resident's experience:

C. N. Sherlund, prop. plumbing business, 312 6th St., says: "My kidneys acted too frequently. I had such severe pains at one time when I bent it was all I could do to straighten again. There was a dull ache across my kidneys that annoyed me a great deal, too. I used Doan's Pills and they helped me."

The New Barn On the R. M. Potter Farm Is A Model of Construction

The barn is 30x60, making rigid construction very important. We had the privilege of furnishing the material, last fall, and watched its construction with a great deal of interest. We congratulate both Mr. Potter and the Contractor on the unique way in which the roof was braced. It is sure to stand heavy wind pressure.

The floor arrangement gives Mr. Potter's stock plenty of light, fresh air and room. He is very successful with horses, cattle and sheep. This new barn is going to help him make still better records. Who is next?

THE CO-OP'S MAIN OBJECT

THE "Potato Grower," official organ of the Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange, in its issue of March 20, explains the main objects of the cooperative movement. It is very clearly stated, as follows:

A cooperative marketing organization is in business to raise the basic price of the product handled rather than to make an outstanding sale or two.

The Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange is a thorough believer in this statement. When we say anything about prices we talk average prices. Our sales manager asserts his willingness to compare his average price for the season with that of any old line dealer. There is no boasting about some particularly good sale, or grieving over some disastrous venture. To keep the average high is the big aim so that all growers shall benefit from their membership in the exchange through successive years.

When you hear of some one receiving an unusual price for his potatoes and he is heralding it far and wide, you know that some poor devil somewhere is keeping very still about the low price he had to take from the same buyer.

It can't be otherwise because the law of averages works with the local buyer as relentlessly as with others. What he loses by paying a price above the market to one grower he must make up by buying from some other grower at a price below the market. Otherwise he must go broke. That is "sure as death and taxes." It is the business of the exchange to adjust the pools and pooling periods so as to insure the average price to all members, according to grade and quality.

In short, as we see it, the greatest good for the greatest number is the objective sought.

WE SAW HER GRAVE IN BOSTON

THE quest of literary sharks for the original Mother Goose tends to rob Boston of that glory, says the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press. On our part, we always thought the lady to be of a fictitious nature until we visited Boston at the time of the Elks convention last year and were astonished to find the grave of Mother Goose, well marked and well kept in a cemetery in the very heart of the business section of Boston.

More pilgrims tarried at this grave than at the graves of the tea party heroes, or the colonial governors and other important personages sleeping their last sleep in this little cemetery, small in area, but nevertheless housing, as the sexton said, 3,000 bodies.

Iconoclasts seeking to disturb the fame of Mother Goose, assert that the title came from France as early as 1697, that many of the stories came from France and England and that Oliver Goldsmith contributed some. Boston, however, rests secure in the belief that the old lady had the literary qualities ascribed by tradition, and furthermore, points to her grave as proof that at one time she was a living entity.

BLOWING YOUR OWN HORN

THE Boys' band presents the film "Blow Your Own Horn" at the Lyceum last time tonight, and it brings to mind the oft repeated assertion, if you don't blow your own horn, who will?

The hero in "Blow Your Own Horn" wasn't averse to blowing it, and he jibes well with the estimate made by Heywood Broun, critic and author, who writes in Liberty.

Copybook maxims inculcating modesty and self-effacement come in for severe jolts at Broun's hands. After studying and watching the careers of hundreds in dramatic and literary pursuits, he has decided that the world gives "lip-allegiance" to these virtues, but gives its money and acclaim to those who capture its attention by tooting their own horns.

STYLES OF SEXES CONTRASTED

AHTHORITIES state that women's styles are better than those of the men. They are more conducive to health, permit greater freedom in exercise. Where is the woman who would wear a heavy vest and coat, collar and tie, securely checking any throat movement. No woman would ever wish to wear suspenders.

When will mere man cast aside his shackles of custom and appear in a summer suit and equipment, that is including his shoes, weighing just two pounds?

SEVERAL prominent machinery manufacturers of Wisconsin and Minnesota have been asked to have representatives present at a meeting which is to be held on March 25 in the Department of Commerce in Washington under the auspices of the Division of Simplified Practice of the Department of Commerce. This meeting will bring together representatives of some 60 technical organisations as well as some 300 manufacturers, distributors or consumer bodies, to consider tentative proposals to make reductions of about one-third in the existing varieties of milling cutters used in the machine industry.

ST. CLOUD man failed to stop his automobile after striking a little girl, was haled before the district court, admitted he had not complied with the law in such cases and was fined $25 and costs, which he paid. The law requires a man to stop, give his name and license number.

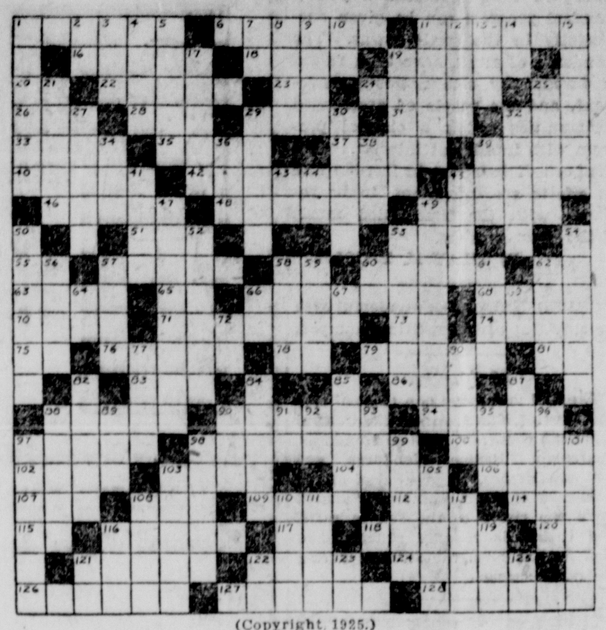

HUGH FULLERTON has it doped out that the Yankees and the Giants will win the pennants this year. Fullerton's predictions do not always score bulls eyes and he misses as many as less renowned prophets. Our guess is that the St. Louis Browns will win the American League flag and the McGraw men, as usual, will take the National pennant.

SAUK RAPIDS has sent $316 to the tornado victims. The fund is made up of a $250 surplus on a fund raised during the war for books for the soldiers in France.

It is better to blow your own horn, no matter how small a piece of tinware it is, than to blow someone else's big one. This is the lesson taught in Owen Davis' stage play, now on the screen, entitled "Blow Your Own Horn," which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre for the last times tonight, for the benefit of the local Boys' Band. Little Johnny Fox of "Covered Wagon" fame is featured, along with Ralph Lewis, Warner Baxter and a big supporting cast. Betty Compson, Lilyan Tashman and Rockcliffe Fellowes in a scene from the Paramount Picture "The Garden of Weeds"

Betty in Odd Fix in Latest Picture

Here's a funny situation:

Betty Compson gets herself talked about because she rides downtown in her own automobile!

Pictorially speaking, of course.

The way it was, Miss Compson's own automobile—yes, her own in real life—was being used for certain important scenes in "The Garden of Weeds," the new James Cruze production for Paramount in which she is starred.

And in the play—in reel life, not real life—it is owned by Rockcliffe Fellowes, who according to the scenario, is an immensely wealthy man who likes to have beautiful women around him, and usually has.

One of these women—in the story, of course—is Betty Compson. And she rides downtown in his—pictorially automobile. Of course, it really is hers, but that's a secret. And when she rides downtown in his (really her) automobile, all the gossips (in the picture) set to talking and the first thing she knows she has a terrible reputation.

It's all, of course, because Cruze needed an unusually beautiful automobile for the picture, and Miss Compson volunteered to loan him her new one.

But it makes a sad situation for the earnest young reporter, who is trying to get it all straightened out so you'll know what it's all about.

"The Garden of Weeds" will be shown at the New Park last time tonight.

Glenn Hunter Has a Rapid-Fire Day

"It's a great life — if you don't weaken."

Such was Glenn Hunter's comment after one day's filming of "The Silent Watcher," the new First National picture, to be shown at the New Park on Thursday and Friday.

The day's program for Hunter, who is co-starred with Bessie Love in this Frank Lloyd production, was:

First, a fit of crying to show the strain of an all-night "third degree" by police.

Second, a comic scene with Miss Love in a kitchen.

Third, an exterior showing him raking up dead leaves in his home yard.

Fourth, a scene on a musical comedy stage where he is jostled about by chorus girls.

Glycerin on Glass

To prevent raindrops or water from beading on glass, wipe off the glass with a piece of cloth wet with glycerin. The first few drops remain as drops spreading and showing a tendency to run, but as the drops increase in number they come into contact with each other and coalesce, forming a smooth transparent film of water over the entire surface, which is no obstraction to vision.

It is better to blow your own horn, no matter how small a piece of tinware it is, than to blow someone else's big one. This is the lesson taught in Owen Davis' stage play, now on the screen, entitled "Blow Your Own Horn," which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre for the last times tonight, for the benefit of the local Boys' Band. Little Johnny Fox of "Covered Wagon" fame is featured, along with Ralph Lewis, Warner Baxter and a big supporting cast. The local Boys' Band will play in front of the Lyceum Theatre this evening at 6:45.

Betty Compson, Lilyan Tashman and Rockcliffe Fellowes in a scene from the Paramount Picture "The Garden of Weeds"

Betty in Odd Fix in Latest Picture

Here's a funny situation:

Betty Compson gets herself talked about because she rides downtown in her own automobile!

Pictorially speaking, of course.

The way it was, Miss Compson's own automobile—yes, her own in real life—was being used for certain important scenes in "The Garden of Weeds," the new James Cruze production for Paramount in which she is starred.

And in the play—in reel life, not real life—it is owned by Rockcliffe Fellowes, who according to the scenario, is an immensely wealthy man who likes to have beautiful women around him, and usually has.

One of these women—in the story, of course—is Betty Compson. And she rides downtown in his—pictorially automobile. Of course, it really is hers, but that's a secret. And when she rides downtown in his (really her) automobile, all the gossips (in the picture) set to talking and the first thing she knows she has a terrible reputation.

It's all, of course, because Cruze needed an unusually beautiful automobile for the picture, and Miss Compson volunteered to loan him her new one.

But it makes a sad situation for the earnest young reporter, who is trying to get it all straightened out so you'll know what it's all about.

"The Garden of Weeds" will be shown at the New Park last time tonight.

Glenn Hunter Has a Rapid-Fire Day

"It's a great life — if you don't weaken."

Such was Glenn Hunter's comment after one day's filming of "The Silent Watcher," the new First National picture, to be shown at the New Park on Thursday and Friday.

The day's program for Hunter, who is co-starred with Bessie Love in this Frank Lloyd production, was:

First, a fit of crying to show the strain of an all-night "third degree" by police.

Second, a comic scene with Miss Love in a kitchen.

Third, an exterior showing him raking up dead leaves in his home yard.

Fourth, a scene on a musical comedy stage where he is jostled about by chorus girls.

Glycerin on Glass

To prevent raindrops or water from beading on glass, wipe off the glass with a piece of cloth wet with glycerin. The first few drops remain as drops spreading and showing a tendency to run, but as the drops increase in number they come into contact with each other and coalesce, forming a smooth transparent film of water over the entire surface, which is no obstruction to vision.

INSECT PESTS MENACE FOOD SUPPLY OF WORLD

BATTLE RAGING ON ALL FRONTS, EVERY FARM A FIELD OF ACTION

ENEMIES OF MAN, SO FAR, ARE AHEAD IN THE FIGHT

By DALE VAN EVERY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 25.—The most serious warfare ever waged by man, one in which the very existence of the race depends, is being fought today with every backyard a battlefield and every farm a major front.

It is the struggle between the human race and the insects to determine which will flourish on the earth. The city dweller so far is oblivious to this conflict, which he feels only in the increased cost of food and clothing. The farmer feels it keenly in that crop wastage caused by insects costs him dollars and cents.

But the experts of the United States Department of Agriculture, who are making man's organized efforts to conquer the insect enemies, looking beyond the present cost in money, wasted labor, and destroyed crops, regard the future of the struggle as potentially the greatest crisis ever to confront the race.

Insect Pests Gaining

Despite greatly accelerated resistant measures being taken by the department, destructive insect pests are constantly gaining. The most the department has been able to do in many cases is to retard the spread of insect blights. Insect depredations among American crops cost hundreds of millions of dollars annually and each year cost more than last. If the increase in insect destruction continues at its present rate the time will come when what the insect takes will amount to so much there will not be enough left to satisfy man's needs.

The new insect menace appeared within the last generation. Conditions brought into effect by civilization gave the insect its great opportunity. Originally, under natural conditions, for every insect there was a natural enemy. Parasites infested them. Birds ate them. Other carnivorous insects ate them. One species of insect lived on the eggs of another species. This natural balance restrained dangerous kinds of insects from becoming too numerous.

Nature's balance was distorted by civilization. Man denuded vast stretches of country of its natural forest. Bird life was restricted. With natural conditions destroyed, various species of insects found a sudden opportunity to expand.

International commerce spread insects in strange parts of the world where, freed from their natural enemies, they could expand unhampered. Plants brought from Asia to America might carry two or three specimens of an insect, which innocuous in its homeland, found in its new environment a chance to flourish untroubled by its natural enemies. Immediately the strange insect multiplies and becomes a menace.

The Cotton Boll Weevil

The cotton boll weevil, most noted of insect pests, was originally a little known and unimportant bug which lived on wild cotton in the mountains of Mexico. Its food supply was strictly limited. Introduced by chance in the fringes of the cotton belt in southern Texas, it suddenly found in the endless fields of cultivated cotton a limitless food supply.

With a birth rate which it has been estimated produces over 12,000,000 offspring to a single pair of weevils in one season, the pest spread like wild fire through the cotton fields of the south. It lodged in Texas in 1892. Despite all efforts to resist the plague, it spread as far as North Carolina in the succeeding 30 years. The bug which was of no importance in its natural wild state has been given an opportunity by the unnatural conditions brought about by civilization to become a menace to one of the staple crops of the country, costing annually losses of from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000.

The history of the boll weevil illustrates the general insect menace. Pests which in their natural state faced so serious a fight for existence they barely were able to get along at all have suddenly been presented with an abounding food supply, been freed of their hereditary enemies, and as a result have multiplied with speed and vigor.

EUROPE RAPIDLY COMING BACK

(By United Press)

Geneva, March 24.—Europe is rapidly coming back, according to the Permanent Financial and Economic Commission of the League of Nations.

This commission, composed of some of the best financial and economic authorities in the world—men who created the League of Nations, plans for the financial reconstruction of Austria and Hungary—are regarded as the highest possible authorities. They have followed it in detail ever since the first financial and economic conference held in 1920. In fact, it has been due largely to the adoption by the various European governments of the recommendations made by that conference, that Europe is now getting back onto its feet.

According to the League's commission the definite prograss being made in Europe is to be seen first of all in the manner in which the various countries are getting their currencies stabilized and in the balancing of their budgets.

Countries which up to the present time have virtually succeeded in stabilizing their currencies are, according to the commission: Austria, Germany, Hungary, Switzerland, Czecho-Slovakia, Sweden, Finland, Esthonia, Poland, Lithuania, Latvia, Dantzig, Serbia, France, Belgium and Italy.

The next great question which these countries will now have to solve in their march back to the normal, will be whether they will try and get back to the pre-war parity as regards the value of their currency or whether they will establish an entirely new basis.

Among the countries which have decided to accept the latter and solution and which have established their currency parity on the basis that exists at the present time are Austria Hungary, Germany, Poland, Dantzig, and Esthonia. Both Czecho-Slovakia and Finland have also announced their intention of stabilizing their currencies at the present rate of exchange.

Other countries, like France, Belgium and Italy, however, are still hopeful of greatly improving their exchange rate before being obliged to stabilize.

Equally important as this stabilization of the currencies, if not even more so, is the manner in which the European countries are getting their budgets balanced.

The commission now expects to concentrate its efforts on a campaign to get all of the leading countries to come back to the gold standard basis.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder is Irritated

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

The artistic Home is nothing more than the one where you exercise good taste in the selection of your plans and material. A talk with us and an examination of our plan service will not obligate you in any way, but no doubt prove helpful to you in the planning of a home of your own. You'll find our prices very reasonable.

DISCUSSES PROPOSED NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Supt. W. C. Cobb of City Schools Addresses N. E. Brainerd Improvement League

PROPOSITION NOT NEW ONE

Says Room And Equipment Were Reported Insufficient in 1917

It was the most instructive and interesting meeting we have had for a long time," members of the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League declared after Tuesday evening's meeting.

President Mrs. J. H. Herbert gave interesting figures on assessed valuations, compiled from the records in the county auditor's office by Mrs. W. W. Bane and herself, which showed that out of a total of 1325 homes and business properties taken from all sections of the city, there were 87 with an assessed value of $3,000 or over; 120 between $2,000 and $3,000; 125 between $1,000 and $2,000; 308 between $500 and $1,000; and 685 with an assessed value under $500. It was explained that the assessed valuation is taken as being 40 per cent of the full and true value.

Superintendent W. C. Cobb of the city schools, was the principal speaker of the evening. He spoke of the school board of 10 or 12 years ago having the matter of a new high school under consideration. The state superintendent of public instruction had visited the school in 1917, where there were only 180 pupils enrolled, and reported that the room and equipment were insufficient at that time.

At present the need of a new high school is beyond controversy, said Mr. Cobb, as there are 486 pupils enrolled, exclusive of part time students, and every bit of available school room space is being utilized. The real question seems to be taxation.

"How is it going to affect each of us?" asked the speaker. No one can say definitely. Facts and figures were given and each can draw his own conclusions. It was shown that Brainerd was not the only city where taxes had ben increased the past few years.

Attention was called to Pine River, with 110 mills school tax, to Bemidji with 68 mills, Staples 58 mills, Motley, 68 mills, Detroit over 50 mills, and many others that have felt higher taxes than Brainerd, which can be counted fortunate in having to pay only 40½ mills. With the added gross earnings tax aid and other state asistance, it should be able not only to operate the present schools, but also operate a new high school. Therefore, the added 8 mills would be represented by the interest on bonds and a sinking fund for the retirement of the new bonds, as well as the $30,000 outstanding bonds.

Using the figures secured from the county records, the speaker showed where 685 home owners, whose homes are assessed at $500 or less, would have a tax increase of not over $4 per year; 308 homes assessed between $1,000 and $500, not over $8 per year. The question then asked was: "Is it not worth from $2 to $8 per year to have an adequate, modern high school for the growing generation?" This is the question that must be answered at the polls.

Superintendent Cobb stated that it cost about $70 per pupil for educating the school children in Brainerd. Determining what the individual's school tax amounted to this year, a little less than one-half of the total tax of 90 mills, will give an idea whether a person gets more or less than he pays.

A question which is constantly being raised at the present time and causing some concern to many was put bluntly to Superintendent Cobb. It was "If the bonds fail to carry what solution might present itself to carry on the continuance of the schools?". The Superintendent was markedly embarrassed in attempting to "penetrate the veil," and gave some figures indicating the crowded condition of all classrooms in the grade schools, and left it to anyone to form his own conclusion.

There were many favorable expressions for the bond issue from members of the League, all of the speakers urging that the voters mark their ballots "yes" for the bond issue.

The League voted $5 toward the Red Cross fund for tornado sufferers in the disaster of last week.

Mrs. Herbert announced that she had been appointed chairman for the sale of gladioli in the third ward, and that orders for these bulbs can be left with Mrs. F. M. Kelly, Mrs. Lasher, Mrs. Hall, B. Kaatz & Son's store, or with her.

The streets and boulevard committee had a very interesting report on its plans to get the streets of the ward dragged during the summer. A detailed report was promised for the next meeting.

Attorney Gustav Halvorson gave an interesting short talk on "Service," complimenting the League on its work. Alderman George A. Cain also gave an excellent short talk.

The following committees were announced:

Ward Improvement—H. A. Kaatz, O. E. Swanson, Richard Ilse.

Streets and Boulevards—O. E. Swanson, A. D. Peterson, A. A. Arnold, Sherman Stein and John Lund.

Finance and Membership—E. L. Dahl, Mrs. N. Kauffman, W. H. Olson and A. D. Peterson.

Education and Recreation—Mrs. J. L. Koyiol, Mrs. William Dougherty, Mrs. Clyde MacDonald.

Publicity and Social Welfare—Albert O. Anderson, Mrs. Elmer Forsberg and Verner F. Anderson.

The educational and publicity committees are to prepare a program for the next meeting.

BLOOD TRANSFUSION GIVEN

Operation Perfomred to Save Life of Miss Gladys Nitterauer in Chicago

Miss Gladys Nitterauer, who has been ill with scarlet fever for some little time in Chicago, is in a very serious condition, and slight hopes are held out for her recovery.

Her mother, Mrs. T. E. Nitterauer, who has been at her daughter's bedside for several weeks, telegraphed Mr. Nitterauer on Tuesday that a blood transfusion was given, but that the patient did not seem to benefit by it. A second telegram late yesterday stated that she could not live, and the father left on the noon train today to be at her bedside.

Mrs. Nitterauer has not been allowed to see her daughter, but that word received from the hospital had been encouraging. She wrote Sunday that Gladys' teacher had sent word that her ambitions would be realized and that she would be given a class at the conservatory as soon as she regains her health.

Gladys has also been urged by her instructors to try out for the playing in concert with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Her illness comes just as the ambitions of her life are about to be fulfilled. She was a student of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone, who recognized her ability and urged her to study, which she has done most successfully.

Her many Brainerd friends are earnestly hoping that there may yet be a change for the better.

PASSION WEEK MEETINGS PLANS

Ministers of Brainerd Will Hold Services During Easter Week

4 SERVICES IN JUEL BLOCK

Large Union Service to be Held at Park Theatre on Good Friday

The ministers of Brainerd are completing plans for the special Passion Week meetings, to be held during Easter week. During the first four days of the week meetings will be held at the Juel block, Mayor Con O'Brien having donated the use of the rooms for the meetings. These meetings will be for one-half hour, from 12:20 to 12:50 P. M. Following these four meetings, a large union service will be held at the Park theatre on Good Friday.

Speakers for the noon meetings will include several evangelists in Brainerd at that time for special meetings in various churches. Dr. Reed will be in charge of the music. Many who work in the business section will be glad of this opportunity to hear an Easter message on these days, and all are invited to attend one or more of the meetings.

Miss Gladys Nitterauer, who has been ill with scarlet fever for some little time in Chicago, is in a very serious condition, and slight hopes are held out for her recovery.

Her mother, Mrs. T. E. Nitterauer, who has been at her daughter's bedside for several weeks, telegraphed Mr. Nitterauer on Tuesday that a blood transfusion was given, but that the patient did not seem to benefit by it. A second telegram late yesterday stated that she could not live, and the father left on the noon train today to be at her bedside.

Mrs. Nitterauer has not been allowed to see her daughter, but that word received from the hospital had been encouraging. She wrote Sunday that Gladys' teacher had sent word that her ambitions would be realized and that she would be given a class at the conservatory as soon as she regains her health.

Gladys has also been urged by her instructors to try out for the playing in concert with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Her illness comes just as the ambitions of her life are about to be fulfilled. She was a student of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone, who recognized her ability and urged her to study, which she has done most successfully.

Her many Brainerd friends are earnestly hoping that there may yet be a change for the better.

PASSION WEEK MEETINGS PLANS

Ministers of Brainerd Will Hold Services During Easter Week

4 SERVICES IN JUEL BLOCK

Large Union Service to be Held at Park Theatre on Good Friday

The ministers of Brainerd are completing plans for the special Passion Week meetings, to be held during Easter week. During the first four days of the week meetings will be held at the Juel block, Mayor Con O'Brien having donated the use of the rooms for the meetings. These meetings will be for one-half hour, from 12:20 to 12:50 P. M. Following these four meetings, a large union service will be held at the Park theatre on Good Friday.

Speakers for the noon meetings will include several evangelists in Brainerd at that time for special meetings in various churches. Dr. Reed will be in charge of the music. Many who work in the business section will be glad of this opportunity to hear an Easter message on these days, and all are invited to attend one or more of the meetings.

MULDOON SAYS BOXING TODAY IS O. K.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 25.—Honesty, courage, competence and decision are given as the essentials in a first class referee by William A. Muldoon, senior member of the New York Boxing Commission, while discussing the complaints made about some of the decisions given after contests in New York.

"A good referee," he said, "must be able to see, to think and to act simultaneously. Of course, it must be taken for granted that he knows what to do or he shouldn't be in the ring. The most essential thing though is to do something and do it quickly. Nothing will destroy confidence so quickly as indecision."

No one in the boxing game today has had a broader or more varied experience in boxing than William A. Muldoon. Perhaps no one knows the ins and outs and the tricks and traps of the game as intimately as he does. He has been associated intimately with the game for fifty years and in that time the fighting game has been at its worst and at its best, and he believes that the game is in better condition now than it has been previously.

Muldoon is perhaps the finest physical specimen for his years in the United States. He is older than Major Koehler, the physical culture expert at the United States Military Academy, who is said to be the finest built and best preserved soldier in the world. Muldoon has kept his body young and has retained a very youthful mentality by the cleanest of living. You can't keep a first-class brain functioning in a third-class frame.

There have been complaints about some of the decisions that have been given recently in New York. Some blamed decisions that did not meet with their individual approval upon incompetence of the referees and the judges. Others hinted at dishonesty. While it is perhaps a fact that no fallible commission can recruit and maintain a staff of officials that is 100 per cent beyond approach, it must be recalled in justice to the New York Commission and its officials, that no one has ever been able to quote the flimsiest bit of evidence that a wrong decision had ever been given deliberately or maliciously by a set of New York officials.

When a contest ends without a marked superiority to the credit of one of the boxers, there always will be a division of opinion. This has been shown time after time by the comment of New York boxing writers on bouts that ended officially in a draw. Of fifteen written opinions by reporters who are supposed to have judgment as competent as that of the officials, five may say that it was a draw, five will say that one boxer was entitled to a shade and five will say that the other boxer won. This percentage may not be accurate in all cases, but it is very seldom that the boxing writers will agree even among themselves.

"HIT AND RUN" BENEFIT PLAY

Brainerd Northern Pacific Baseball Team Stages Benefit Show at Lyceum

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, APRIL 9-10

Play is a Human Interest Story of a Bush Leaguer Signed For The Big League

The Brainerd Northern Pacific baseball team is staging a benefit show, "Hit and Run" at the Lyceum theatre on Thursday and Friday, April 9th and 10th. The team is planning for a big season and in order to start out right needs proper financing, which is the reason for this benefit.

"Hit and Run" is especially adapted to this, since it is a comedy-drama of baseball, a very human portrayal of a bush leaguer who is signed by big league scout to a big league contract because of his hitting.

Hoot Gibson, a big favorite with Brainerd audiences, is the star in this big picture, which fact alone insures its success. It is claimed that "Hit and Run" is the best and brightest film in which he has ever appeared. It is so lively, so rich in characterization, so mirthful, so well staged and acted that it is one of the few features deserving of the word "Special."

The author has taken the bush leaguer as his central character, and has written an interesting yarn around him similar to those which Ring Lardner wrote with such success in "You know me, Al" and his "World Serious." Gibson is immense as a son of swat, and humanizes his role to such a degree that he appears real. In fact all of the cast are remarkably true to type.

Of course there is a strong love romance that increases in interest and heart appeal as it develops, and is one of the brightest that has been produced by the Universal film company.

In a word, "Hit and Run" is a mighty fine picture, one human to the core. A lively comedy with romance and an interesting, human plot. It keeps the audience alert with its rapidly changing scenes and the development of its plot. It is a picture that will no doubt pack the Lyceum to its utmost capacity, and should be a real money-maker for the Brainerd Northern Pacific baseball team.

(Contributed)

Thursday at the high school at 8 o'clock, the Sophomores of the school, in girls basketball, issue a defi—a challenge to all those intrepid souls who dare take their courage in their hands and in a free for all—open to everybody—game of girls' basketball, meet on the gym floor to settle whether or not the Sophomore girls, hitherto undefeated, are able to win in a post-tournament game. Excitement runs high, the rest of the school's out to administer punishment to these altogether too cocky Sophomore girls, including members of the first team, with all their experience. Especially do the Juniors and Seniors, smarting under their recent defeat, yearn to put in their places these lucky ones. They are out for blood—to quote a famous coach, "Don't hit them unless you have to, but hit them hard!" We won't go so far as to say that there will be hair-pulling, for hair today is short, but if looks could kill, the Sophomores would fade away from the ball, and the baskets shrink when the Sophomores try to make one.

Add to this sweet music and lovely clothes—a style show of other garments besides middies and bloomers—those of you who often wonder.

Grand admission to this thrilling game, last, positively, of the season: Ten cents for students and fifteen cents for grownups.

Merchant Financial Wreck

"I am a financial wreck because of the expense of doctors and medicine for my wife. She has been a chronic sufferer for 10 years. Some pronounced it gall stones, some gastritis and some intestinal inflammation. I happened to read an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and from the first dose my wife has steadily improved." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. JACK DEMPSEY WILL HAVE TO FIND AN EXCUSE

COMMISSION GOING TO STEP OUT AND TELL HIM TO DEFEND HIS CROWN

NO COMMISSION CAN TAKE IT AWAY BY EDICT, SAYS KEARNS

New York, March 25. — Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion prize fighter, was placed on the ineligible list by the New York state boxing commission.

The action resulted from Dempsey's failure to give the commission what it considered a direct answer to its demand that he accept the challenge of Harry Wills for a championship bout.

By HENRY L. FARRELL

New York, March 25—Jack Dempsey may have a good excuse for remaining on the movie lots in California when the New York boxing commission takes a slap at him today. Unless leaks from the commission headquarters have been all wrong Dempsey can change his tune from "I'll fight anybody" to "They won't let me fight anybody."

The commission is expected to place the heavyweight champion on the ineligible list. This is the only penalty it can impose upon Dempsey for his inactivity because he has no New York license and he is not immediately under the jurisdiction of the commission. If he is consigned to the ineligible list under the names of Mike McTigue, Micky Walker and Johnny Dundee, the sentence will amount to a suspension as he will not be granted a license to fight in New York until he has accepted the challenge of Harry Wills, the New Orleans negro.

Dempsey is laughing over the wires from Los Angeles, and Jack Kearns, who handles his ring business for him, is chuckling in New York, but neither one likes the idea of having any official tone added to the general suspicion that the heavyweight champion is timid about fighting Wills.

"We don't care anything about commissions," Kearns said. "We have the heavyweight championship and it can't be taken away from us only by a tap on Dempsey's chin. We have been on record for two years about Wills' challenge. If the commission hasn't a memory it should dig into the files and find the agreement that Dempsey signed years ago to fight Wills."

Kearns made the same statement in more elegant language when he sent a long letter to the commission last week after Dempsey had been ordered to say "yes or no to the Wills challenge."

The commission, however, feels that the letter avoided the main points. The letter probably will be placed on file along with the official copy of the sentence.

With Dempsey declared null and void, the commission may put its machinery in motion to find a new champion or to force Dempsey into such a tight place that he will have to announce his retirement or have it made obvious that he does not want to fight.

One way toward this end would be to suggest that Wills and Tom Gibbons, who have filed challenges, fight it out. This probably will be done.

Al Van Ryan Busy

Glenn Milligan, Sioux City, Ia., will meet Al Van Ryan, St. Paul, there in a 10-round bout on March 30. Van Ryan will then tackle Archie Ammons at Cedar Rapids, Ia., on April 2.

IS THIS TO BE A GLAND AGE?

In a recent press dispatch, a London physician stated that the Golden Age of man bids fair to be the glandular age, when salvation will be taken in tablet form. He said further that the average man believes that his thoughts, actions and feelings are controlled by his mind. But it is possible to show that mind is itself under the despotic sway of the ductless glands, which generate in the system the chemical fluids on which depend health, happiness and morality.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, which is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Johnson's Pharmacy and Economy Drug Co. will supply you. Adv.

ATHLETICS AT MINNESOTA "U"

University of Minnesota, March 25—Rating second in the western conference in both swimming and hockey, winning a 500 per cent rating in basketball for the first time in four years and defeating the previously unbeaten Illinois football team have been accomplishments in athletics at Minnesota this year which brand the collective athletics of the university a success. And with the approach of spring sports, the Gophers have excellent chances for a high conference position in baseball. With some of his best performers ineligible, Sherman Finger, track coach, is issuing some blue statements, although a few first class performers will wear the Minnesota colors on the cinder paths this spring.

Major Lee Watrous, baseball coach, left March 20 for a trip to Texas, taking with him a baseball squad that includes eight veterans and several men of promise who have not yet won the "M" on the diamond. Two games will be played with Texas A. & M., two with Southern Methodist University at Dallas, and two with the nine of the University of Texas, in Austin. Other games will be scheduled, the guarantees bringing the cost of the southern trip to a remarkably low figure.

Guzy and Tucker as pitchers, Captain Rufe Christgau, catcher, Foote and Rasey, outfielders, Ascher at shortstop and Hall at third, with Sherman also an outfield possibility, are among the men who will probably make the southern trip. The big holes in the Gopher nine at present are at first and second base. The graduation of both Ray Eklund and Cy Pesek left a gap at first for which no one has been developed as yet. Herb Wolden, the star center on the basketball team, and Jim Manahan, are possibilities at the initial sack. Other men who will be out for baseball include such athletes as Mason, Wheeler, Lidberg, Schutte, Stephens, Wright, Redding and Anderson.

Not counting a number of stars who are said to be ineligible, Sherman Finger's track squad will include Captain Craig Mattice, hurdler, Bill Gruenhagen, who won second place in the 300 yard dash at the Illinois relay carnival, Albert Johnson, also a quarter miler, Ted Tyde in the broad jump, Freddie Just in the high jump and Rohrer in the pole vault. Catherwood, Scarborough, Partridge and others are men who can be depended on to give their best on the track.

Minnesota's galaxy of weight men, including Louis Gross with the discus and Carl Schjoll with the javelin, have been reduced to a minimum by graduation or completion of three year's competition. Ted Cox will be out for the shotput, however, and some new material is expected to develop among the husky youths of the football squad.

With Herman Ascher a fixture at shortstop on the baseball team and Ted Cox taking his part in the shotput, Minnesota's past and present football captains will be doing their full share to uphold the athletic standard in other branches of sport.

Play is a Human Interest Story of a Bush Leaguer Signed For The Big League

The Brainerd Northern Pacific baseball team is staging a benefit show, "Hit and Run" at the Lyceum theatre on Thursday and Friday, April 9th and 10th. The team is planning for a big season and in order to start out right needs proper financing, which is the reason for this benefit.

"Hit and Run" is especially adapted to this, since it is a comedy-drama of baseball, a very human portrayal of a bush leaguer who is signed by big league scout to a big league contract because of his hitting.

Hoot Gibson, a big favorite with Brainerd audiences, is the star in this big picture, which fact alone insures its success. It is claimed that "Hit and Run" is the best and brightest film in which he has ever appeared. It is so lively, so rich in characterization, so mirthful, so well staged and acted that it is one of the few features deserving of the word "Special."

The author has taken the bush leaguer as his central character, and has written an interesting yarn around him similar to those which Ring Lardner wrote with such success in "You know me, Al" and his "World Serious." Gibson is immense as a son of swat, and humanizes his role to such a degree that he appears real. In fact all of the cast are remarkably true to type.

Of course there is a strong love romance that increases in interest and heart appeal as it develops, and is one of the brightest that has been produced by the Universal film company.

In a word, "Hit and Run" is a mighty fine picture, one human to the core. A lively comedy with romance and an interesting, human plot. It keeps the audience alert with its rapidly changing scenes and the development of its plot. It is a picture that will no doubt pack the Lyceum to its utmost capacity, and should be a real money-maker for the Brainerd Northern Pacific baseball team.

(Contributed)

Thursday at the high school at 8 o'clock, the Sophomores of the school, in girls basketball, issue a defi—a challenge to all those intrepid souls who dare take their courage in their hands and in a free for all—open to everybody—game of girls' basketball, meet on the gym floor to settle whether or not the Sophomore girls, hitherto undefeated, are able to win in a post-tournament game. Excitement runs high, the rest of the school's out to administer punishment to these altogether too cocky Sophomore girls, including members of the first team, with all their experience. Especially do the Juniors and Seniors, smarting under their recent defeat, yearn to put in their places these lucky ones. They are out for blood—to quote a famous coach, "Don't hit them unless you have to, but hit them hard!" We won't go so far as to say that there will be hair-pulling, for hair today is short, but if looks could kill, the Sophomores would fade away from the ball, and the baskets shrink when the Sophomores try to make one.

Add to this sweet music and lovely clothes—a style show of other garments besides middies and bloomers—those of you who often wonder.

Grand admission to this thrilling game, last, positively, of the season: Ten cents for students and fifteen cents for grownups.

Merchant Financial Wreck

"I am a financial wreck because of the expense of doctors and medicine for my wife. She has been a chronic sufferer for 10 years. Some pronounced it gall stones, some gastritis and some intestinal inflammation. I happened to read an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and from the first dose my wife has steadily improved." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy, Economy Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.—Advt.

JACK DEMPSEY WILL HAVE TO FIND AN EXCUSE

COMMISSION GOING TO STEP OUT AND TELL HIM TO DEFEND HIS CROWN

NO COMMISSION CAN TAKE IT AWAY BY EDICT, SAYS KEARNS

New York, March 25. — Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion prize fighter, was placed on the ineligible list by the New York state boxing commission.

The action resulted from Dempsey's failure to give the commission what it considered a direct answer to its demand that he accept the challenge of Harry Wills for a championship bout.

By HENRY L. FARRELL

New York, March 25—Jack Dempsey may have a good excuse for remaining on the movie lots in California when the New York boxing commission takes a slap at him today. Unless leaks from the commission headquarters have been all wrong Dempsey can change his tune from "I'll fight anybody" to "They won't let me fight anybody."

The commission is expected to place the heavyweight champion on the ineligible list. This is the only penalty it can impose upon Dempsey for his inactivity because he has no New York license and he is not immediately under the jurisdiction of the commission. If he is consigned to the ineligible list under the names of Mike McTigue, Micky Walker and Johnny Dundee, the sentence will amount to a suspension as he will not be granted a license to fight in New York until he has accepted the challenge of Harry Wills, the New Orleans negro.

Dempsey is laughing over the wires from Los Angeles, and Jack Kearns, who handles his ring business for him, is chuckling in New York, but neither one likes the idea of having any official tone added to the general suspicion that the heavyweight champion is timid about fighting Wills.

"We don't care anything about commissions," Kearns said. "We have the heavyweight championship and it can't be taken away from us only by a tap on Dempsey's chin. We have been on record for two years about Wills' challenge. If the commission hasn't a memory it should dig into the files and find the agreement that Dempsey signed years ago to fight Wills."

Kearns made the same statement in more elegant language when he sent a long letter to the commission last week after Dempsey had been ordered to say "yes or no to the Wills challenge."

The commission, however, feels that the letter avoided the main points. The letter probably will be placed on file along with the official copy of the sentence.

With Dempsey declared null and void, the commission may put its machinery in motion to find a new champion or to force Dempsey into such a tight place that he will have to announce his retirement or have it made obvious that he does not want to fight.

One way toward this end would be to suggest that Wills and Tom Gibbons who have filed challenges, fight it out. This probably will be done.

Al Van Ryan Busy

Glenn Milligan, Sioux City, Ia., will meet Al Van Ryan, St. Paul, there in a 10-round bout on March 30. Van Ryan will then tackle Archie Ammons at Cedar Rapids, Ia., on April 2.

IS THIS TO BE A GLAND AGE?

In a recent press dispatch, a London physician stated that the Golden Age of man bids fair to be the glandular age, when salvation will be taken in tablet form. He said further that the average man believes that his thoughts, actions and feelings are controlled by his mind. But it is possible to show that mind is itself under the despotic sway of the ductless glands, which generate in the system the chemical fluids on which depend health, happiness and morality.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, which is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Johnson's Pharmacy and Economy Drug Co. will supply you. Adv.

ATHLETICS AT MINNESOTA "U"

University of Minnesota, March 25—Rating second in the western conference in both swimming and hockey, winning a 500 per cent rating in basketball for the first time in four years and defeating the previously unbeaten Illinois football team have been accomplishments in athletics at Minnesota this year which brand the collective athletics of the university a success. And with the approach of spring sports, the Gophers have excellent chances for a high conference position in baseball. With some of his best performers ineligible, Sherman Finger, track coach, is issuing some blue statements, although a few first class performers will wear the Minnesota colors on the cinder paths this spring.

Major Lee Watrous, baseball coach, left March 20 for a trip to Texas, taking with him a baseball squad that includes eight veterans and several men of promise who have not yet won the "M" on the diamond. Two games will be played with Texas A. & M., two with Southern Methodist University at Dallas, and two with the nine of the University of Texas, in Austin. Other games will be scheduled, the guarantees bringing the cost of the southern trip to a remarkably low figure.

Guzy and Tucker as pitchers, Captain Rufe Christgau, catcher, Foote and Rasey, outfielders, Ascher at shortstop and Hall at third, with Sherman also an outfield possibility, are among the men who will probably make the southern trip. The big holes in the Gopher nine at present are at first and second base. The graduation of both Ray Eklund and Cy Pesek left a gap at first for which no one has been developed as yet. Herb Wolden, the star center on the basketball team, and Jim Manahan, are possibilities at the initial sack. Other men who will be out for baseball include such athletes as Mason, Wheeler, Lidberg, Schutte, Stephens, Wright, Redding and Anderson.

Not counting a number of stars who are said to be ineligible, Sherman Finger's track squad will include Captain Craig Mattice, hurdler, Bill Gruenhagen, who won second place in the 300 yard dash at the Illinois relay carnival, Albert Johnson, also a quarter miler, Ted Tyde in the broad jump, Freddie Just in the high jump and Rohrer in the pole vault. Catherwood, Scarborough, Partridge and others are men who can be depended on to give their best on the track.

Minnesota's galaxy of weight men, including Louis Gross with the discus and Carl Schjoll with the javelin, have been reduced to a minimum by graduation or completion of three year's competition. Ted Cox will be out for the shotput, however, and some new material is expected to develop among the husky youths of the football squad.

With Herman Ascher a fixture at shortstop on the baseball team and Ted Cox taking his part in the shotput, Minnesota's past and present football captains will be doing their full share to uphold the athletic standard in other branches of sport.
